

ThermoPalm TP22 Handheld Thermometer with 4-Wire PT100 Input

Product Images

Short Description

The TP22 is the ideal instrument for temperature measurements. With the interchangeable Pt100 probes, it can be equipped for every application.

Description

The TP22 is the ideal instrument for temperature measurements. With the interchangeable Pt100 probes, it can be equipped for every application.

Applications

Mobile inspections in HVAC, random tests in the pharmaceutical industry, building management systems, museums, warehouses

Features

- Interchangeable Pt-100 probes
- Range of application handheld: -10...60 °C / 0...100 %rh
- Measurement range probe: probe-dependent, -100...600 °C
- Service interface (UART)

Using the binder plug (sold separately) the customer can use their own Pt100 probes or Tempcon Instrumentation can manufacture to suit the application.

Additional Information

Brand	Rotronic
Maximum Temperature	+600
Typical applications	Building Performance, HVAC
Measurements	Temperature